

Each species read against its own young; species-specific probe set

